PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Spring Time Activities

Yes, we had the March auction! Many thanks for Bev & Will Acord and Lynn Welker auction co-managers as well as all of the help they utilized in photographing, organizing, and finally displaying the glass for the auction.

Yes, we’re planning for June convention! Susan and Larry Everett are convention co-chairs for this year’s convention “Color My World”. You’ll find their article along with the schedule of events and the registration form in this issue. Make your plans to join us in-person after missing out on events the past two years.

Yes, April also means it is time for the Annual Fund mailing. In case you might have forgotten, NCC uses the Annual Fund as your opportunity to renew your commitment to NCC and our efforts in education and preservation. You, our Friends of Cambridge, contributed over $55,000 to the Annual Fund drive in 2021. We don’t send out “membership renewal notices”, your participation in the Annual Fund drive serves that purpose. Thank-you for your support.

The Annual Fund mailing also includes the ballots for the board of directors election. I encourage you to read the biographies of the four candidates that is included in this issue of the Crystal Ball, and to promptly send in your Annual Fund contribution along with your ballots. Ken and Jane Filippini will be getting the materials organized and sent out by mid-April. It is quite a chore to prepare a mailing for nearly 500 households, so thanks to Ken and Jane for handling this task.

Your NCC Board of Directors consists of twelve individuals who volunteer their time to provide direction for this organization. Organizationally, we have five operational Vice-Presidents who manage the effort of getting work done for this organization. As near as I can determine, we have always had twelve directors. At the June Annual Meeting, the membership will be asked to approve a change to our Constitution to increase the number of directors to fifteen. If approved, the board size will increase by one over three years. Why the change? The board needs to expand to get new perspectives and diversity of thought. Think about this proposed change and ask questions prior to the Annual Meeting.

On a positive note, let’s celebrate National Volunteer Week, April 17-23, 2022. National Volunteer Week is a time for organizations across the country to honor volunteers for the irreplaceable impact of their time and energy all year round. We have some great people helping accomplish what needs to be done. We could always use more, and I’m sure, relief for some of those who have been doing the same job for years. If you’re not sure how you can help, drop me an email and I’ll connect you with the appropriate contact. You’ll also see a monthly notice in the Crystal Ball “Volunteer Opportunities”.

What’s coming?

Monthly Zoom & Tell sessions have allowed members to show examples of Cambridge glass following a monthly color theme. Participation has stayed steady with about 50 people joining each month. Thank you to Julie Buffenbarger for hosting, and to David Ray for providing the monthly write-ups for the Crystal Ball. If you can’t attend a session, ask to view the video recording.

What’s on your Cambridge “wish list” for this year and beyond, and how can we help?

Stay energized and share the word!

Sincerely,

Freeman Moore

New Museum Season Begins April 1st

By Cindy Arent

As the 2022 season unfolds, many new displays and experiences await visitors to the Museum. Members who stopped by the museum during auction weekend were able to see the new displays before the general public. The museum is open April through October; Wednesday – Saturday; 9 am – 4 pm and Sunday from noon - 4 pm.

The Cambridge V.F.W. Post 2901 has generously donated a new 5' x 8' flag. This is the fourth year they have supported our organization and with a flag donation. Due to wind and weather, the flag needs to be replaced each year. Also, the rope will need replaced and we will contact the Cambridge Fire Department to see if they are able to help us with the project sometime this year.

The new flag has been raised for the season and was donated by the Cambridge VFW Post 2901. (L-R) Cindy Arent, Lindy Thaxton and Sandi Rohrbough.

One of the best kept secrets at the Museum is The Edna McManus Shepard Education Center. Many improvements have been made during the winter months, so if you visit the Museum be sure to see what this area has to offer.

Spring projects are in the process of completion. The Museum Wi-Fi has been boosted through a grant from the Cambridge Kiwanis Foundation. Previously, the front area of the museum had very weak service. The student activity booklets, given free to children who visit the Museum, have also been updated and reprinted, as well as the Museum Tour Guides. The printing was also accomplished through the Kiwanis Grant.

I was notified that we received a marketing/advertising grant again this year from the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau. The Grant Assistance Program is available to area non-profit organizations. This year, we will receive $5,000.00 at the conclusion of the grant period.

NCC members attended the Cambridge Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner representing our organization. There were over 400 people in attendance at the Pritchard Laughlin Civic Center for the event. Those attending were Sharon and Joe Miller, Jeff and Jill Ross, Lindy Thaxton, Sandi Rohrbough, Anna Pavlov and Cindy Arent. We enjoyed talking with several members from the community.

In March, Jack Burriss and Jennifer Miller from the Heisey Glass Museum stopped for a visit. It was fun showing them our new exhibits and sharing our organization's upcoming events.

It was nice to see so many members at the museum during the Annual Auction and we look forward to greeting many more friendly faces this season. If you are unable to visit, the Museum Facebook page has frequent posts about what is happening at the museum.

Happy Spring and thank you for your support! ■

Les Hansen was the first visitor of the season and the first name in the 2022 Museum Guest Book. It was so nice to see everyone!

Our friends from the Heisey Glass Museum stopped for a brief visit in March.

Having fun in the Museum Speakeasy are Jennifer Miller and Jack Burriss, Curator/ Director of the Heisey Museum.

NCC members, Roger and Millie Loucks, enjoyed looking at the beautiful, freshly cleaned Cambridge Glass on display.

This original ad for the Sweet Potato Vase states, "One of the Fastest Selling Novelties of the Year." The vase came complete with hanger for $1.00.

This Sweet Potato Vase with original hanger is located in the Education Center on the wall above Mr. Bennett's desk.

Freeman and Jeannie Moore visited the Green River Glass Show in Kent, WA, chaired by NCC member Kay Larrison.

If anyone wants a 3 ft NCC club sign, there was one for sale at the show!

Convention 2022: Color My World

By Susan and Larry Everett

Please make plans to attend the annual NCC Convention this year. The theme “Color My World” will celebrate the many wonderful colors that Cambridge Glass manufactured. You will find the convention schedule of events and the registration form included in this issue.

Please list your favorite Cambridge Glass color on your registration form. We will announce the most popular colors listed by convention attendees before the banquet Friday evening.

As you will note on the convention schedule welcoming activities will be held at the National Museum of Cambridge Glass. If you have never experienced the museum you are in for a real treat. The address is 136 S 9th Street, Cambridge, Ohio. Even if you have been to the museum you will be amazed at all the new exhibits and improvements that have taken place during the “closed” season.

If you are fairly new to convention activities or Cambridge Glass please let that be known. You will find we are a friendly bunch that will welcome you and happily answer questions to put you at ease.

The new video production “The Cambridge Glass Company – Quality through Courage and Innovation” will be shown at the museum on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Please refer to the schedule for exact times.

Chris Smith and David Ray are heading up the display case activities this year. If you would like to assist, let us know. Plans are near completion.

Plan in attending an informative presentation on the extensive information available in the digital Cambridge Glass Library. This session will be presented by Larry Everett and Dave Rankin on Thursday afternoon. You will also receive helpful tips for new users.

We are fortunate to have nationally known authors and dealers, Margaret & Kenn Whitmyer, with us this year. They will present a program on Cambridge Perfumes and Vanity Items on Thursday evening.

The Glass Show will open on Friday afternoon. The team heading this event are David Ray, Jack Thompson, and Mike Strebler. The good news is that the show is full and there is a standby list of quality dealers waiting to entice you.

Saturday evening join us for the Cocktail Reception and Dinner. Don’t forget to bring your favorite Goblet. Bring your Colored Vase to provide the table decoration, no flowers required. If you wish, take one or both to Show and Tell later in the evening.

Saturday morning will feature the Glass Dash. This event is unique in that dealers cannot set glass out for sale until the customers come through the door. It’s always a frenzy trying to be in the right place at the right time to have a treasure set out when you are within grasping distance.

Friday evening will see the ever-popular Bring and Brag presentation by Lynn Welker. Collectors always try to outdo each other to present stunning items from their collections.

A new feature this year will be the Saturday afternoon Tea & Coffee. The inaugural event is free and a wonderful opportunity to sit, relax, visit, and share convention finds.

Saturday evening will feature Larry Everett as he shares some of the new information that has been uncovered during the digital archival efforts and Cambridge Glass Library development.

It’s never too early to make your reservations. We look forward to seeing everyone!

Zoom & Tell: Opal, Carrara and Milk

by David Ray

The February Zoom & Tell program featured the three different colors of milk glass produced at the Cambridge Glass Company: Opal, Carrara and Milk. Les Hansen lead the educational portion of the program by providing a detailed history on the production milk glass by Cambridge. Calcium Fluoride (Fluorite) was the main colorant in the batch formula that gave the glass its white opaque color. It is relatively easy to distinguish between the items produced in Opal, Carrara and Milk. Each milk color was produced several years apart, so new lines and items were in production during these three different eras. The first milk glass, named Opal, was introduced in 1903 and continued in production until around 1905. During these years, the Cambridge Glass Company was still owned by the National Glass Company. A variety of items were offered in Opal, but only a limited number of examples have been found.

approximately 2 years. The items produced in Carrara were limited to candlesticks, bowls, candy boxes, footed compotes and a small number of Community items. Azurite, Primrose, Jade, Ivory, Ebony and Helio were produced in a much greater quantity and using a greater variety of molds.

Now, fast forward 15-20 years to the “opaque era” when Cambridge produced its beautiful opaque colored glassware. The milk glass of this era was named Carrara. Compared to the vast number of items produced in the other opaque colors of this time, the production of Carrara was somewhat limited. Carrara was produced for

For most Cambridge glass enthusiasts, we often think of the milk glass pieces produced during the mid-1950’s. Cambridge called their third production of white opaque glass Milk. Milk was introduced in 1954 and production lasted only 6 months until the company closed. Given the large volume of Milk that can be found, Cambridge must have produced a large quantity of Milk during this short period of time. Other glass companies like Fenton and Westmoreland were also producing large quantities of milk glass during this era. Cambridge produced a variety of decorator and utilitarian items from various lines in Milk. These lines include Caprice, Everglade, Martha Washington, Mount Vernon and Sea Shell. Some specialty items were produced for Farber Brothers.

David Ray,
2022 Nominating Committee

2022 Candidates for NCC Board of Directors

(Alphabetical order)

Julie K. Buffenbarger

I have been drawn and have loved old It has formed my preservationist's attitude -to advocate, protect and care for architecturally and historically significant buildings, structures, and objects of quality craftsmanship. This ideal permeates my professional career as a sustainability and durability concrete consultant and is also inherent in my passion for Cambridge glass. I admire the intricate adornments of structures built from concrete and steel in the early 1900s and marvel at the artistry of glass from this same period. Likewise, Cambridge glass, with its intricate patterns, meticulous applications of gold, silver, and enamel decorates, and the variety of beautiful colors born from the science of mixing and firing of sand, clay, and other elements.

We each collect in many ways – by color, pattern or decorate, or by a specific article (e.g., ball jugs, animals, and ice buckets). But, we each have a common desire and goal - to preserve Cambridge glass's tangible history and culture. Today, our challenges include reaching our membership on traditional and contemporary platforms and becoming a more well-balanced multi-generational organization. To accomplish these tasks, NCC must:

1. Retain and engage our membership by facilitating in-person and increased remote educational and engagement activities (e.g., Zoom meetings, virtual tours, virtual conventions, and auctions.);
2. Encourage and engage young collectors by creating diverse outreach programs (social media, tours, programs, print, etc.);and,
3. Foster organizational partnerships (new, like-minded, and community).

Bringing entrepreneurial, innovation, and business development expertise from my corporate career has served NCC well with the adoption of lunches at auction and Zoom and Tell meetings.

If re-elected to the NCC Board, I will continue to use my professional skill sets in marketing and communication, business development, and education to continue the successful work done by my peers and predecessors at NCC. NCC must continue growing and adapting to become genuinely sustainable in the ever-changing collecting world.

My husband, Don and I will celebrate 28 years of marriage in 2022. We live in Medina, Ohio, with our six cats, Phoenix, Jeremiah, Zeus, Jasmine, Apollo, and Isis. I would be honored and excited to continue to serve on the Board of NCC as we move forward in making this a vibrant, everlasting organization preserving the history of Cambridge Glass.

David "Dave" Rankin

We all enjoy the fruits of Dave's Cambridge glass research, preservation, and education efforts. Dave has taken the auction glass photos, video recorded and enabled viewing of presentations and other key Cambridge Glass moments for many years. Most recently he is working to digitally enhance and preserve the Cambridge Glass archives for future generations. This is a monumental and important task that no one wanted to tackle. His skill and attention to detail have moved this project to nearly 70% completion.

His most recent focus has been the creation of the Cambridge Glass Digital Library that you can access by visiting cambridgeglasslibrary.com. This herculean effort allowed Cambridge glass catalogs, price lists, circular letters and other original documents to be viewed and searched by anyone with Internet access. Much work remains and is in progress as of this writing.

Dave's initial web-based product is the site that we currently know as mvsg.org. Used mostly by those that search for colors, etchings, or specific Cambridge glass items. Currently there are more than 30,000 unique images available. This is also an evolving work that changes to meet the demands of users. Recent additions are the "News", "Upcoming Events" and "Charts and Listings" sections.

Making the best of a bad situation might describe Dave's efforts to move study group meetings from in-person to web based. This has allowed members nationwide to participate and enjoy monthly study group meetings. All are welcome to attend and participate.

Currently Dave serves NCC as Director of Research, Director of Media Productions, Director of the Digital Library, and Director of the Digital Archives. He also is a member of the Finance and the Endowment Committees. He previously served as chair of the Endowment Committee. Dave has served in almost every NCC office and capacity at one time or another. He is a recipient of the Phyllis Smith award.

Dave wishes to continue his service to NCC and members as a member of the Board of Directors. He welcomes comments, suggestions and questions.

2022 Candidates for NCC Board of Directors (Alphabetical order)

Stuart Sandler

I first started collecting Cambridge glass in my late 20s. Living in Florida, where many retire, I frequently found glass "treasures." The Caprice line formed my initial collection, but my tastes evolved, and I started acquiring other patterns and lines into my collection. Although much of the Caprice is gone today, some pieces remain. Having joined NCC, I frequently acquired pieces via absentee bid at the NCC auction or through the DAZE. During this time, I met Bill and Phyllis Smith and other NCC members at local Depression Glass Shows and was inspired to join the NCC family.

Later my career brought me to northwest Indiana and closer to Cambridge, Ohio. In 2014, I attended my first NCC auction, and in 2015, my first convention! While living in Indiana, it also offered an opportunity to assist the Miami Valley Study Group with journal research at the University of Chicago's library archives. This research inspired me to volunteer in more NCC club endeavors. As a result, I displayed my ivy ball collection in 2019 at the NCC Convention and have assisted in tally ballots for board member elections. Since then, I have done my best to back NCC with my time and energy to various other NCC activities. Support has included donating NCC logo merchandise to support fundraising activities to benefit the Club, donation of glass to mini-auctions, and providing bubble wrap and other goods for the shipment of glass after the auction and from the gift shop.

While I have served the Club in the past in the formerly mentioned activities, I believe it is now time for me to participate more significantly. Serving on the NCC's board of directors would allow me to give back to the Club as repayment for what I have gained from NCC membership, many of whom I call friends.

As a board member, I would bring a vast array of organizational skills, ideas for the inclusivity of persons with diverse backgrounds and experiences, and a willingness and dedication to see projects and programs finish. While I will contribute ideas and experiences, I also understand that no one person is all-knowing. My profession has taught me that listening intently to others and collaborating are necessary for success. Working as a team allows quick achievement of goals, provides alternative perspectives and permits consideration of further possibilities than those considered individually. I want to thank the NCC membership for giving me this opportunity to serve NCC.

Currently, I live in the Florence area of South Carolina with my husband, where I am the Medical Director of Occupational and Employee Health for the McLeod Regional Health System. Our organization serves a community of over 13,000 citizens and 1400 client companies in the business and industrial communities.

WANTED

Glass Dash Participants

We are on the lookout for several interested glass dealers for the 2022 Glass Dash which will be held Saturday June 25, at the St. Benedict's Gym, the same location as the past several years. The dash is where everyone gets the same chance to add that rare item to the collection.

We are looking for anyone that is wanting to reduce their collection or just has too much. This is a great venue to reduce your collection and add that rare item. If interested in joining the fun, please contact Frank Wollenhaupt by email at fewvic303@sbcglobal.net or just give him a call at 937-475-2889.

Recent Finds

Cigarette holder, engraved Lucia. Is this 1066 stem combined with something else?

Welcome to the eBay Report, featuring Cambridge glass items that sold on eBay circa mid-February through mid-March 2022... plus a few straggler items on my Watch List that I neglected to mention in last month's report. Selling prices are rounded to the nearest dollar. If no color is mentioned, assume that the piece or part of it being discussed is crystal. If I refer to an auction as "incognito," that means that the seller did not know he or she was offering Cambridge glass, and didn't use the word "Cambridge" in the description. I am also trying to make sure I mention if a listing was a Buy It Now offering, as opposed to an auction style listing. I think it's important to distinguish between the two, as the price for an auctioned item reflects competitive bidding (or no competition, if it sells for the opening bid.)

Rose Point

A set of 8 #7966 sherries sipped away for $272.

A #1263 flat dressing bottle with stopper poured it on for $285 Buy It Now.

A #3500/144 Bridge Set consisting of the 3500/144 Gadroon center-handled tumbler tray holding 4 #498 4-3/8 inch 8 ounce tumblers, sold for $300 Buy It Now.

A #299 3-toed covered candy with applied rose finial in Carmen bloomed for $416.

Statuesque (Nude Stem) and Related Items

A single candlestick in Crown Tuscan with crystal locking bobèche and 8 prisms sold for $275 Buy It Now. Some black flecks in the glass were noted.

The same candlestick in crystal with a Royal Blue candle socket brought a much more impressive $705 after 35 bids.

Gold, Silver and Enamel Decorations

A #861 11 inch handled serving tray, border etched #527 covered in gold, the compartments etched with early Wildflower, was offered for $80 but sold for an undisclosed Best Offer.

A lamp made from the #1234 12 inch vase in Carmen etched and gold encrusted Diane sold for $255.

Etched Tableware & Stemware

A #1066 Aurora ivy ball etched Portia sold for $23 in an incognito listing.

A #9408 or 8701 5 inch tumbler in Willow Blue etched Diane sold for $47. Where were the rest of them? I asked. Well, my rhetorical question was answered when the seller posted four more. The set of four sold for $201. Then I realized the seller had listed a second set of four. That grouping brought $124.

A #388 4 inch ashtray in PeachBlo etched Gloria sold for $51.

A #3400/68 cream & sugar etched Apple Blossom, set on a #1071 9 inch handled tray, all in PeachBlo, sold for $55.

An Ebony 10-1/2 inch low pan-shaped bowl with flat rim etched Cleo sold for $65 in an incognito listing. The shape reminded me of the #14 baked apple bowl, but smaller. It also looked like the #9 10 inch flat rim bulb bowl, but without the three feet. Readers – what is the correct shape number?

An unusual #1308 6 inch blown vase etched Rosalie sold for $69 Buy It Now. The shape resembled the #3145 tumblers, but different.

A late small decanter in Smoke with the Lion etching and an original label, missing the stopper, sold for $77.

A set of 6 #3051 4-1/2 inch cone-shaped tumblers in Light Emerald with etching #704 sold for $85.

A #3400/38 80 ounce ball jug etched with Lotus Glass Company's Vesta pattern was offered for $100, but sold for an undisclosed best offer. The decorating company's etching resembles Cambridge's Elaine pattern, so it's worth studying and comparing the two etchings, to make sure you know what you're looking at... or buying!

corner panels and a spiral optic in a brilliant light green was offered by the seller as "Vintage Cambridge Glass vase Uranium Aero Optic 1929." Though the optic in it clearly wasn't Aero, the piece probably sent many collectors scurrying for their 1927-1929 catalog reprint to see whether it was at least Cambridge. Those who did check it came up empty-handed. However, someone who was undoubtedly a very satisfied collector of colored Steuben glass won it for $52.

A #299 3-toed covered candy in Light Emerald with applied rose finial in PeachBlo sold for the opening bid of $64.

A turtle flower frog with the domed back sold for $69 Buy It Now. A nick to the tail was noted.

A #950 bacon & eggs dish and cover in Light Emerald etched #732 was offered for $119, but the "listing was ended by the seller because the item is no longer available." Hmm...

Three bidders competed for a hollow stem champagne with Achilles cutting, which sold for $156. The seller followed up with a set of 3 more, which sold for $465 Buy It Now.

A #3400/95 4-1/2 inch puff box in Forest Green (the seller called it Emerald Green) etched Apple Blossom sold for $154.

A set of 4 #3400/55 Light Emerald cream soups etched Apple Blossom with saucers were spooned out for $159 Buy It Now.

A #1314 footed ashtray with Gold Krystol bowl etched Diane wafted away for $220.

A Light Emerald #623 center-handled tray with 4 #881 tumblers etched Golfers sold for $325.

A pair of #3500/95 6 inch 2-Lite Ram's Head Candelabrum, version 1, with bobeches and prisms, both the base and prisms etched Minerva, were food for the gods at $400. This is the rarer, earlier version, with the ram's head in the center. Later, Cambridge replaced it with the cornucopia.

A #522 Two-Bun Geisha figurine in Light Emerald with a small screw-on brass base, set into a what appears to me to be a Westmoreland Glass Company Lotus pattern console bowl, was offered by a seller located in Australia. The "set" sold for $1110 U.S. dollars on a Buy It Now. The same seller offered an identical "set" in Bluebell, except that the bowl was resting on a stepped black glass base. It sold for the same Buy It Now price as the Light Emerald one.

That's it for now. If you see any interesting Cambridge glass on eBay that you think I should be watching or reporting on, or if you have any other input, feel free to contact me at LAGlass@pacbell.net. I am well aware that I don't catch every interesting listing, and now that eBay no longer has a category devoted to Cambridge glass, I will especially need your help. Until next time, happy Cambridge hunting!

Friends of Cambridge – Annual Fund

NCC exists through member giving using an Annual Fund system to raise operating funds and to ensure the preservation of Cambridge glass for future enthusiasts. The Annual Fund uses a common member "renewal" date and NCC sends out Annual Fund materials to everyone once a year. There are no monthly reminders or monthly renewal dates. The Annual Fund is NCC's primary means of support and all Annual Fund gift recognition levels are per household and include membership for all adults within the household. Additionally, each household will receive a subscription to the Crystal Ball newsletter, unlimited admissions to the museum, and rights to vote in elections for the Board of Directors. Multiple households at the same address are welcomed. NCC is a 501(c)(3) organization and Annual Fund gifts are allowed as a tax deduction under Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code.
